DESPONDENCY DRIVES FOX LAKE RESORT OWNER TO SUICIDE

Willis J. Simms Hides Self in Closet, Then Fires
Fatal Shot.

Despondency, due to financial worries and ill health, is believed to have prompted Willis J. Simms, 51, Fox Lake resort owner, to take his own life Saturday morning by firing a rifle bullet into his brain.

Choosing an hour before the members of his family had arisen, Simms hid himself in a small clothes closet under the belief that the sound of the discharge of the gun would not be heard, and fired the fatal shot.

Wife Hears Fatal Shot.

Simms had arisen at 6:30 to prepare breakfast for his son, Willis, Jr., who is employed in the Union station in Chicago. An hour later his wife was awakened by a sound which she believed to be a falling body. It was thought the sound of the fatal shot awakened her and that she actually heard the body of her husband or the gun fall to the floor. After a few minutes search Mrs. Simms opened the closet door and found her husband in a dying condition.

Marshal Joseph Riggs, who was summoned to the house, carried the body of Simms from the closet to a bed and summoned Dr. Furlong of Spring Grove. Simms died before the physician arrived.

Worried and Despondent

Simms had suffered from occasional attacks of melancholia for several years. Just before Christmas a year ago he disappeared and was found two weeks later wandering about Chicago in a coma. He seemed to recover his full faculties, however, as weeks passed.

Last summer was unprofitable for Simms and he had worried much of late over financial affairs.

Simms has resided in the vicinity of Fox Lake for many years and has been engaged in the resort or restaurant business for the greater part of that period. Besides his wife, seven sons and daughters survive.

An inquest was held at the home Saturday by Dr. John L. Taylor, county coroner, and the body was removed to Strang undertaking rooms in Antioch.

Funeral services were conducted in the chapel at the Strang undertaking establishment here Tuesday at 11:00 a.m., Rev. A. M. Krahel officiating.

E. E. SHANNON SUCCUMBS TO HEART ATTACK

Channel Lake His Home
For More Than 38
Years.

Elmer E. Shannon, well known Channel Lake resident, died very suddenly at his home just west of Channel Lake at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, following an acute attack of heart disease. He had been troubled with heart ailment for many years.

Saturday morning Mr. Shannon had visited Antioch doing some Christmas shopping and seemed to be in his usual health while greeting friends in stores here and on the street, and the news of his death in less than ten minutes after he had returned to his home was a shock to his family and friends.

Mr. Shannon was born in New Jersey, Oct. 13, 1861. He was married to Anna Jane Worswick at Oak Park Ill., Sept. 16, 1888. His wife predeceased him in death May 13, 1907.

Channel Lake has been the family home since 1890 when they removed there from Oak Park. Mr. Shannon, a lover of the great outdoors, knew the country well and for years served as guide to hundreds of hunters, fishermen and reporters who visited this locality.

Nine Children Survive

Nine children survive: James Ellsworth of Poutney, Vt.; Mrs. Leila H. Hurdis, Delavan, Wis.; Richard C. Chicago; Mrs. Margaret L. Waters, Channel Lake; Archie E. Channel Lake; David E. Speedway Hospital, Maywood, Ill.; Mrs. Carrie E. Ghan, Channel Lake; George H. Channel Lake, and Willis F. Chicago.

Funeral services were conducted at the home at 10:30 Tuesday morning, Rev. S. E. Pollock officiating. Burial was in Hillside cemetery.

Pastor Krahel Is Asked To Explain

Rev. A. M. Krahel of the Methodist Church, when accepting the purse presented to him at the Christmas program, suggested that he fully expected this year to spend Christmas somewhere in the Pacific Ocean, caused the inquiring reporter to seek further information which revealed the fact that at the last conference there was a movement on foot to send the local pastor to Singapore as executive secretary for the Methodist church interests of that district.

The Methodist Church owns millions of dollars of property in schools and churches throughout Malaya, Burma, Burneo, Java and Samaria, which need the constant attention of one man to handle. Rev. Krahel, having had years of business training before entering the ministry, was urged to accept this responsibility. In the schools throughout the islands, which by the way are supported financially by the British Government but supervised by the Methodist Church, have an enrollment of 250,000 children with schools varying from kindergarten to Junior college.

The accepting of this huge undertaking by Rev. Krahel would have meant making a sacrifice, as the children, Leonard and Catherine, would have to remain in the States because of the climate. Rev. Krahel states that he finally did submit to the wishes of the church, if the need warranted his going. However, just as he was to make the final preparation to sail, having passed all requirements of the foreign board, word was received that a man from China, who was nearer the situation, would be sent, thus relieving him of the responsibility, much to the joy of his many friends in America.

ANTIOCH MILK PLANT TO OPEN NEW YEAR'S DAY

Local Plant Is In Readiness
To Receive and Ship
Milk Sunday.

The Antioch milk plant will again open its doors to the milk producers of the district Sunday morning, Jan. 1, after having been closed for a period of more than eighteen months.

The opening of the local plant Sunday marks the end of a long struggle on the part of dairymen of Antioch and vicinity to reach a permanent solution of the marketing problem. The new plant will operate under the control of the Antioch Farmers Dairy company, an association of dairymen and business men who own the plant.

Farmers Glad of Home Market

The re-establishment of a home market through the re-opening of the plant here is looked upon as a real opportunity for producers of this vicinity whose marketing problem has been one of considerable uncertainty since the closing of the local plant in June, 1926, by the Brexham Dairy company, when through difficulties incident to the T. B. test the production was cut to a point where the plant was being operated at a loss.

Feeling the need of a home market the Antioch Farmers Dairy association was incorporated early in 1927, an option on the property here was secured and the plant purchased by a group of Antioch business men. According to present plans the plant eventually will be owned and controlled by dairymen of the district. Much of the capital stock, which sells at $100 per share has been subscribed.

Plant is Modern

The dairy property has been put in a first class and sanitary condition and the latest modern machinery for handling fluid milk has been installed and will be in operation the day of opening. The entire interior of the plant has been painted.

Bert Brown, a man of wide experience in the handling and marketing of milk, has been employed to manage the plant.

State's Attorney

Demands New Trial In County Fund Case

State's Attorney A. V. Smith announced Thursday that Roy W. Bracher and Ira E. Pearsall, former Lake county treasurers and Clark C. Nye, Caleb A. Busick and Harold E. Martin will again have to stand trial on a charge of conspiracy to embezzle $100,000 of county funds. He said that it is the intention to have the case retried at as early a date as possible. The prosecutor is not certain when it will be possible to try this matter again but said that the new trial will take place some time between January and March.

The jury in the first trial were discharged on Wednesday afternoon of last week when the foreman reported that members could not agree on a verdict.

Smith Denounces Defendants

Bitterly denouncing Bracher, Pearson, Nye, Busick and Martin, State's Attorney A. V. Smith in his closing argument demanded that prison

Community Tree Is One of Beauty

Have you seen Antioch's community Christmas tree at the corner of Main and Orchard streets? If not, you have missed something, for it is pronounced by every one to be the most beautiful tree ever erected at Christmas time in Antioch. Twenty feet tall, perfectly proportioned and beautifully lighted it presents a very pretty appearance and merely to see it has delighted the hearts of all children of the village and community.

The tree, a mountain spruce, is the gift of Mr. H. J. Vos, who had it shipped here from Oregon. The lighting is by the Public Service company.

ALUMNI BASKET BALL STARS TO PLAY HERE FRIDAY

Antioch High and Lake Villa to Oppose Stars in Benefit Games.

Lovers of the great indoor game of basket ball are looking forward with a great deal of pleasure to the big double entertainment to be staged tomorrow night (Friday), at the Antioch high school gym, where two great games featuring alumni teams will be played. The entertainment is being given as a benefit to assist the financing of the recently organized Antioch High School Alumni association.

The first game will show last year's twice champion team against the fast high school team. This game will be a thrilling curtain-raiser for the second game, when Antioch's great team of five years ago, who were county champions, will play Lake Villa. Memories of past battles will help to make these games very interesting.

Stars of Former Years to Play

Representing the Alumni, (team of 1925-1927), will be Nixon, Shuneson, Willett, Hook and Simpson. The 1923 Alumni are: Spafford, Keulman, Wertz, Chinn, Ames, Nelson, Tiffany and Hughes.

This year's team has five fast men—Micheli, Spicer, Bernolfo, Steininger and Wertz.

The fun is slated to begin at 7:30 p. m., and admission prices are to be 25c and 35c.

Always an Exception

"Blessed are the peacemakers," quoted the good deacon. "Yes, they are applauded by everybody except the fellow who is getting the best of the fight," suggested the unregenerate backslider.

terms be meted out. He said that the state had proved beyond any doubt whatsoever that the five men had conspired to defraud Lake county of $100,000 and that in justice to the taxpayers of Lake county they should be severely punished.

The erection of a $200,000 store, office and theatre building in Libertyville by the Libertyville Trust & Savings bank and other Samuel Inull interests is to be started this spring, it was reliably reported last week. Balaban & Katz, Chicago theatrical magnates, are negotiating for the theatre which is to be built to accommodate 1,000 people.

E. G. Frye, Libertyville man, is to receive a reward of $20 from Lake county as soon as he exhibits the scalp of a wolf he claims to have killed. Farmers in the vicinity of Libertyville, Mundelein and Half Day turned to wolf hunting several days ago when it was learned that thirteen sheep had been killed by the beasts in that locality. Frye and two other hunters got the wolf after an all day chase. The law providing a bounty of $20 for every wolf killed in the county was passed by the board of supervisors 25 years ago.

The Genesee, Waukegan's luxurious show place and one of the wonder theatres of the state, was officially opened on Christmas day. The

FIRE DESTROYS RESIDENCE ON FIDDLER FARM

Insufficient Water Supply
Hinders Work of Fire Company.

Flames, which had gained considerable headway before the arrival of the Antioch fire department, late Thursday completely destroyed the residence on the Christian Fiddler farm a mile east of Antioch. Today the large old farm house is a mass of ruins, due to the fact that the insufficient water supply greatly handicapped the work of the local fire fighters who were unable to save the residence but who did very effective work in preventing the spread of the conflagration to the nearby buildings.

There was no one in the house when passersby saw flames breaking through the roof around the kitchen chimney about four o'clock. Immediately a call was sent to the Antioch fire department and neighbors began to remove most of the furniture from the burning building.

Several months ago Mr. Fiddler had sold the farm to Harry McCrory of Chicago, but he and his sister had consented to live on the farm as caretakers until the purchaser was ready to take it over. The Fiddlers have made their home on Spafford street in Antioch for several years.

No statement of the amount of the loss could be obtained, but it is understood that the loss is partially covered by insurance in the Millburn Mutual Company.

FIRST ALUMNI MEET IS ATTENDED BY 112

Graduates of Antioch High
Have Great Reunion
Monday Night.

The first annual meeting of the Alumni of the Antioch Township High School was a big success. There were exactly 112 who sat down to the bountiful dinner prepared by the high school cafeteria women and served by the girls of the home economics department.

At the business meeting held before the dinner permanent organization of the Alumni was formed with Albert Herman as President, Hilda Rosling as Sec. Treas., and Howard Spafford as Athletic Manager. It was decided to continue having dinner meetings during the Christmas holidays.

An excellent program by after dinner speakers had been secured by the program chairman, Cornelius Roberts. Principal L. O. Bright acted in the capacity of Master of Ceremonies after being presented by President Albert Herman.

Dr. Frank Gaggin, a former Principal and now a prominent physician of Chicago, brought pleasant reminiscences of the earlier days and provided inspiration for the future. Wesley Wertz, a University of Illinois senior; Miss Smith of the High School faculty; and Robert Morley, President of the class of '27 added their advice and humor. Attorney E. M. Itanyard told of the old days in the Antioch school and asked for ever increasing interest in the cause of education. Mr. John Hodge, also a former Principal, brought his interesting humor together with his earnest appeal for those in charge of the school to carry on and he predicted that at some time in the near future Antioch would be the seat of a University.

Those in charge of the arrangements certainly appreciate the sacrifice made by these speakers in coming greater or less distances to make this meeting the great success that it was.

TELLING THE WORLD

Records compiled by the American Newspaper Publishers' association show the enormous amount spent last year for the advertising of well-known products.

The sum of $4,095,000 was expended in advertising the Chevrolet car alone, which heads the list of big appropriations. And, incidentally—or consequently—the Chevrolet led all other cars in sales increase. Other large expenditures in order of size were:

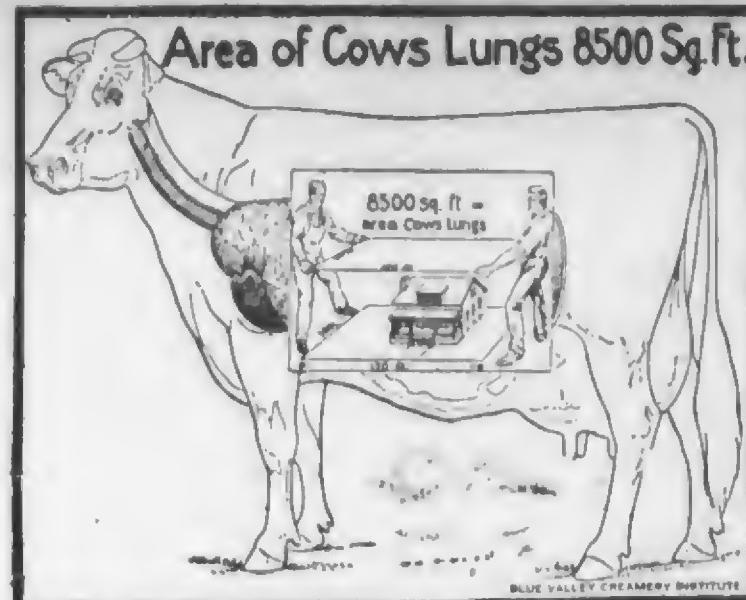

Camel cigarettes and Prince Albert tobacco, $4,034,000; Postum and grape Nuts, $3,527,000; Listerine, $1,484,000; American Tobacco company, $3,328,000; Ivory Soap and Crisco, $3,051,000; Dodge automobiles, $2,028,000.

It is reported that these will appear moderate in comparison with the amount to be used in advertising the new Ford car during the next year.

All of which, in view of the great prosperity experienced by the concerns manufacturing the products named, once more gives a practical illustration of the trite but true saying: "It pays to advertise."

Indians Had Maple Sugar

The Indians were adept at maple sugar making before the coming of the white man. In fact, the whites learned it from the Indians and imitated their process of tapping trees and boiling down the sap. The aborigines of America made both syrup and the sugar of the most delicious kind, such sugar was an object of barter among them.—Pathfinder Magazine.

OXYGEN IS VITAL TO 'WORKING COW'

Good Supply of Fresh Air at All Times Essential to Production.

A dairy cow producing milk needs 820 three-gallon pailfuls of air every hour, reports the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. The spongy sacks which form the cow's lungs are equal to the area of a city lot 50x170 feet, and to keep this mass of tissue functioning normally requires about 3,000 cubic feet of fresh, clean air each hour.

In making these facts known the Institute stresses upon farmers the great importance of making available to their dairy herds a good supply of pure, fresh air at all times. This is especially to be remembered during the 200 to 240 days out of every year which the average dairy cow spends in the stable.

A dairy cow needs the oxygen in the air to purify her blood, and to digest and assimilate her feed and turn it into heat, body repairing material and milk, says the Institute. Without air, a cow would die. With little air her body cannot function properly. With plenty of air her bodily mechanism can run normally. Milking cows constantly need a full ration of fresh air to maintain health and produce milk abundantly. Well ventilated barns, arranged so as to throw off the used, foul air and supply clean, fresh air are necessary for most profitable results during the stabilizing period which normally comprises two-thirds of the year throughout the Mississippi valley.

The oxygen in fresh air makes it possible for the lungs to refresh the blood, which in turn handles the material that goes to make milk, for milk is made from the blood stream. A cow on a half ration of fresh air can not "operate" at her best nor can her body function normally any more than she can produce all the milk she is capable of producing on a half ration of feed. Milk is merely a combination of sunshine, fresh air, grass, hay, grains, green roughage and water. The modern dairy cow is merely a living, breathing, highly organized creature entirely dependent upon man for the amount and quality of her sustenance—even to her daily supply of air when she is stabled—and man, in turn, is dependent upon her for the food products upon which have been built the nations which have achieved the highest type of civilization.

STATE CAPITOL NEWS IN BRIEF

The Polly Prim Tavern Announces Change In New Year's Eve Policy

The Polly Prim Tavern, McHenry, Illinois, wishes to announce to those who do not wish to partake of the New Year supper which will be served. New Year's eve as announced, can secure reservations at $3.00 per person, which includes table, dancing, souvenirs and favors. Call McHenry telephone 252.

Plans to control floods in the Illinois river valley were considered at a meeting held recently in the office of S. J. Stanard, director of agriculture. The state commission, created by an act of the last general assembly, has been announced by Governor Small, who issued the call for the flood control meeting.

A. T. Dunn, Beardstown, was named a member of the commission some time ago, and Senator A. S. Cuthbertson, Bunker Hill, and Representative H. V. Teel, Rushville, were the members recently named by Governor Small. Director Stanard and Wm. Mulvihill, state superintendent of waterways, are ex-officio members.

The law creating the commission, aimed to give relief at Beardstown and other points on the Illinois river, provides for co-operation with other similar bodies in devising ways and means for flood control. The commission is to report not later than February 1, 1928, the status of its work and make recommendations relative to flood control. The commission shall continue in existence during the period of the consideration of its report. The assembly appropriated $10,000 to pay the necessary and actual expenses and costs necessary or incident to its work.

The chance of living to be 70 years old is twice as good downstate as it is in Chicago, while being a woman rather than a mere man gives a person a four per cent better opportunity of reaching at least the coveted three score and ten limit. These facts were disclosed recently in statistics released by Dr. Isaac D. Rawlings, state health director, who points out that big city life militates against ripe old age. Comparative figures indicated, furthermore, that the expectancy in the United States is almost identical with that in England.

"Mortality statistics for 1926 indicate that only 16.9 per cent of the people who died in Chicago had reached their seventieth birthday," Dr. Rawlings said. "In Illinois outside of Chicago 31.5 per cent of the mortality was among those who were seventy or more. Likewise the percentage of infants lost in Chicago was a trifle more unfavorable than downstate. Of all deaths in the big city 11.2 per cent were among children less than one year old against 10.5 per cent among that age group downstate."

The state department of public works and buildings has just received bids for the construction of approximately sixty miles of highways in various parts of the state. In addition bids were received for bridge and grading projects.

The road bids are as follows:

Route 13, section 28, St. Clair county, 6.26 miles; Route 27, section 4S, Carroll county, .40 miles; Route 33, section 6X, Jasper county, 21 miles; Route 40, section 5X, Carroll county, 1.27 miles; Route 49, section 110, Jasper county, 3.47 miles; Route 61, section 126, DeKalb-Kane counties, 12.20 miles; Route 64, section 127, Kane county, 6.82 miles; Route 116,

SEASON OF STORMS BRINGS "UMBRELLA MENACE" WITH IT

Extra Caution By Drivers and Pedestrians Is Needed Now.

"The season of storms and blizzards is here, and with it comes the annual 'umbrella menace,'" says a bulletin issued by the accident prevention department of the Chicago Motor Club.

"A pedestrian who obscures his vision with a lowered umbrella, while crossing streets, imperils his own life, and contributes to the general danger of street travel.

"In rainy or snowy weather the streets are slippery. It is hard to stop a car quickly, and the motorist's vision is partly obscured by a wet windshield. With pedestrians lowering their heads behind open umbrellas, the usual road hazard takes on a sharp upward curve," the bulletin points out, "and both motorists and pedestrians should practice extra caution."

HICKORY NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Hollenbeck and Miss Shirley were over the week end visitors in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Webb and Mr. and Mrs. LaGar of Kenosha were visitors at the Smith and Savage homes Monday afternoon.

Almond Pullen spent Sunday at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thompson entertained several relatives for Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett King and family were guests of the Tillotson family for Christmas.

Mr. Hanson of Waukegan was a caller at the A. T. Savage home Monday.

cations are that the work will be accomplished more speedily than during past years. Already it is estimated 80 per cent of the cars in the state will carry the new license plates by the end of December.

Plan Much Road Building In 1928

Springfield, Ill.—Promise that 1928 will be the banner year in the construction of hard roads in Illinois has been voiced by Frank T. Sheets, chief highway engineer, Department of Public Works and Buildings.

In the year 1924 the state completed 1,230 miles of hard roads, which has stood as a record of concrete construction in all states up to the present time. During 1928 this record will be exceeded. If the season will permit, it is expected the 1,600 mark will be passed. The figure for 1924 embraces both the roads and county highways built by state aid and under the approval of the state highway department.

NAVY OPENS NEW LANDING FIELD AT GREAT LAKES

New Lake Air Port Will Accommodate Land And Seaplanes.

The new landing field at the U. S. Naval Training Station Great Lakes, Illinois, was officially opened Dec. 27, with Rear Admiral Henry J. Ziegelmeyer, U. S. N. C., the Commandant, Ninth Naval District, and other ranking Naval Officers in this District taking part.

The new field is located on the north portion of the Naval Training Station grounds and when fully completed will be of proportions to accommodate all types of planes.

The Great Lakes Airport is the result of the efforts of Lt. Comdr. Harold W. Scofield, D.F., USNR, the former Aviation Aide to the Commandant, Ninth Naval District at Great Lakes, Illinois, who is now on duty in charge of Naval Reserve Aviation in the Navy Department, Washington, D. C. With the assistance of the Chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, USN, former Commandant at Great Lakes, and the assistance of the then Commandant, Captain John F. Hines, USN, ways and means were provided to get the work started. The work in developing the field began in late July, 1927 and has now reached the point where flying operations will be regularly conducted.

The field is designed to serve a two-fold purpose. Primarily it is to be the base of all land plane operations now at the Naval Reserve Aviation Unit and will be supervised by Lt. Comdr. Paul E. Gilispie, A-V(G), USNR, Commanding Officer of the U. S. Naval Reserve Aviation Unit. It will likewise afford a central landing field for all Army and Navy planes as well as other Governmental planes, and in addition, will provide an emergency landing field for all commercial craft.

It is believed that it will not be long in the summer before the field will be completed and in operation as a completely equipped Airport capable of taking care of the needs of all aircraft.

The field is planned to have this field dedicated and named after one of several prominent members of the Navy and Marine Post of the American Legion who lost their lives while flying in aircraft at Great Lakes, Illinois, this dedication to take place either on Memorial day or Independence day when it is expected to have all of the former Commandants of Great Lakes and also the other officers that contributed so much to the success of this undertaking present for the dedication.

French Athletes Take Ultraviolet Baths

Paris.—The members of one of the French athletic teams are regularly using ultraviolet ray baths during training, having been convinced of their value in toning up the system.

England as well as France is following the example of America and Germany in the use of ultraviolet rays for preventive and curative medical purposes. In the British parliament a bill is under consideration making it obligatory for light baths as well as water baths to be installed in mines, freely available for every miner who has been deprived of sunlight for six hours a day. An enterprising municipality is fitting out ordinary public bathhouses with "artificial sunlight."

Historic Boston Tavern

The first lodge of Freemasons in America, St. John's, held its initial meeting in 1733, at the Bunch of Grapes in King street, now State street, Boston. It was at this tavern, known as the "best punch house in Boston," that Lafayette stopped during his tour of the young Republic before returning to France.

UGANDA NATIVES ARE MENACED BY BEASTS

Elephants, Crocodiles and Lions on Rampage.

Cape Town, South Africa.—Prowling man-eating lions which enter native kraals and carry off men, women and children are causing serious concern in Uganda. According to the report of the game department, 35 natives were killed in three months and the warden states that in several instances he operated successfully against the lions by using poison, the difficulty of shooting being enhanced by the roughness of the country and the density of the bush, writes Frank Burton in the Chicago Tribune.

The report contains remarkable instances of the ingenuity of the man-eaters. One was discovered invariably to accompany a herd of elephants. This not only made the tracking of the beast impossible but enabled it to capture the natives who went out to drive the elephants from their plantations.

The natives, the report states, are doing remarkably good work in wiping out what has become a serious pest and cases are on record of a chief and a party of natives in the village of Kyangwe tracking half a dozen lions to the rocky hills where, with the aid of nets and beaters, they were speared and killed.

Natives, however, are adverse to the use of the traps which are issued by the department. The reason is that these traps need careful attention and must be sprung by hand. Otherwise vultures, intrabut storks and secretary birds come down to the bait and fall victims. The natives, knowing that these creatures are protected, are afraid to kill them and so let them loose, handicapped with broken limbs, to die a lingering death.

"Once the lion has lost its instinctive fear of man," the warden declares, "it becomes a menace hard to eradicate."

Crocodile Also Menace.
The report adds that crocodiles are included among other man-eaters and that hippopotamus is becoming more aggressive towards human beings.

There are areas on some of the taken where these animals are a perfect menace to the occupants of enclosures; while in others they have developed the unpleasant habit of attacking, unprovoked, any person they encounter on land at night, particularly people carrying lamps. The mangled state of the victims testifies to the arrant savagery of the attack.

Dealing with the control of large herds of elephants which roam the Uganda wilds, the report states that in recent years official elephant hunters have been appointed, but the measures taken against the animals have made them cunning to the extreme.

"The silence with which a number of elephants will raid a plantation is uncanny," it is declared.

The elephant hunters' work is full of danger. In Bunyoro, for instance, the shooting has to be carried out from trees and the hunters are often knocked from their perches into the headlong flight of a herd of elephants after a shot has been fired.

The report refers to thefeat of a ranger who bagged three elephants with one round of .250 ammunition. It occurred in tall grass, where, after a stern chase, a herd of elephants was seen to ascend the opposite hill slope.

The ranger, seeing that the elephants were likely to pass a tiny opening in the grass about 250 yards away, fixed his rifle in a convenient fork of a tree and waited. An elephant emerged from the cover into the open space and with a bullet through the heart dropped dead. The ranger slid down the hillside.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"CHRISTIAN SCIENCE" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, December 25.

The Golden Text was from II Cor. 9:15, "Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth! Break forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Jerusalem: for the Lord hath comforted his people, he hath redeemed Jerusalem" (Isaiah 52:7, 9).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Truth's immortal idea is sweeping down the centuries, gathering beneath its wings the sick and sinning, . . . The promises will be fulfilled. The time for the reappearing of the divine healing is throughout all time; and whosoever layeth his earthly all on the altar of divine Science, drinketh of Christ's cup now, and is endowed with the spirit and power of Christian healing" (p. 55).

Crashing open a wide lane through the grass.

Vanish into Chasm.

A second elephant appeared and received a bullet near the heart, which did not kill it, but caused it to fall down. The steepness of the slope prevented it regaining its feet and in its turn this animal began to slide down the course taken by the first.

A third elephant now stepped into the lane just below number two, which had now gained considerable momentum and which swept the third elephant off its feet and together the two disappeared into the chasm of the valley, not before, however, a fourth elephant had attempted to cross the lane and was caught in the avalanche of bodies.

On inspection the four elephants were found huddled at the bottom of the valley, dead, their bones smashed to pieces.

Hear Ye!

But the girls did not fall,

For the fellow at all,

He made only twenty a week.

Antioch Churches Have Fine Christmas Programs

Methodist Church

The children of the Methodist School were visited by Santa on Friday evening. Old Nick arrived after the Christmas Cantata, "Santa Borrowed Trouble," was presented by about 35 children and adults, all of whom played their parts well and were rewarded by much favorable comment. Old Santa appeared with his pack filled with candy, nuts and oranges for each child present whether a member of the school or not. Among the many personal gifts Santa distributed was one for the pastor from the community in appreciation of his service.

The Christmas morning service in the church was well attended. A sermon which touched the heart strings of every one together with the most wonderful program of music furnished by the choir made the service one long to be remembered as well as suggesting the real spirit of Christmas.

New Year Service

"A Fresh Start" is the subject of the sermon to be preached on New Year's morning in the Methodist church. Any who feel that 1927 has been a year of discouragement & loss of spiritual vision should aim to be present Sunday to hear this inspirational address. The Sunday School will convene at the usual hour, 9:45, and the church service at 10:45.

St. Peter's Church

Many enjoyable and inspirational services featured the Christmas program at St. Peter's Catholic church. Masses were said by Rev. Fr. McElliot, O. S. M., Chicago, who also gave the Christmas sermon, and many Christmas hymns were sung by the choir.

St. Ignatius' Church

The Christmas program of services began at St. Ignatius' Episcopal church on Friday night when forty children appeared in a program of music, yule playlets and recitations. The service was well attended and was very enjoyable.

Rev. Wise of Round Lake officiated at the mid-night communion service Saturday night. Rev. H. C. Dixon, local pastor, assisted Father Ganster at a similar service held at Christ church, Waukegan, also Saturday night. Rev. Wise had charge of the early morning communion service held at the church at 8 o'clock Christmas morning. Rev. Dixon officiated at the 11 o'clock service.

GIRL SCOUTS ENTERTAINED AT WARRINER HOME

Twelve members of Patrol No. 1, Girl Scouts, were entertained at the home of Mrs. W. W. Warriner Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Richard Alner assisted Mrs. Warriner in serving a splendid luncheon at one o'clock after which the girls were taken to Kenosha where they witnessed the matinee performance of "Daddie" at the Orpheum theatre.

VACATIONING HENS ARE POOR LAYERS

There Should Be No Place for Early Molter in the Farm Flock.

Beware the bird taking too long a vacation from her egg-laying duties, says the Blue Valley Creamery Institute, in advising farmers on molting hens. It's a pretty accurate indication that she is a poor producer. The good laying hen generally molts late and is all over with it in a few weeks, while the poor laying hen generally begins the change in midsummer and continues with it for several months. Since hens do not lay during this period and since normally birds come into laying in late January and early February, irrespective of the time they commenced molting, there is no place for early molters in the profitable farm flock.

Some hens take fully four times as long a vacation as others to regrow their feathers and prepare for another season of egg-laying, reports the Institute. A recent study at the Missouri agricultural experiment station showed that hens ceasing to lay in July took 182 days vacation and laid 109 eggs during the year. Those quitting in August took 151 days off to grow new feathers, laying 134 eggs. September quitters lost 143 days and laid 137 eggs. October molters were idle 94 days and laid 153 eggs. Birds laying up to November lost 69 days for molt and laid 171 eggs, while December molters lost only 45 days and laid 174 eggs during the year.

The length of time since a hen stopped laying may be determined by the molting of the primary wing feathers. These feathers are the large, strong feathers seen when the wings are open and spread out. It takes about four to six weeks to renew completely the primary feather next to the axial feather, or the one between the primaries and secondaries. The remaining primary feathers are usually dropped in order at intervals of one to two weeks.

WILMOT HOMES OPEN TO MANY YULETIDE VISITORS

Weddings and School Activities Principal Events of Week.

Charles Frederick of Paris and Rose Rush of Bassett were married at High Nuptial Mass by Rev. Joseph Brusky at the Holy Name church at 9:30 Tuesday morning. A wedding breakfast and reception were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rush following the ceremony.

Mrs. Elizabeth O'Hare and Charles Gleason of Bristol were married at the Holy Name church on Wednesday morning by Rev. J. Brusky.

The pupils of the Primary Grades at Wilmot under the able direction of their teacher, Miss Olive Hope had a royal school celebration in honor of Christmas this year. Miss Hope, assisted by Miss Florence Blosse, gave a Christmas party for them Friday afternoon. The room was gayly decorated with Christmas decorations many made by the pupils, and there was a fire place, candles and the children's stockings for gifts. Miss Hope took advantage of the opportunity to impress the pupil's lessons in good manners and each little boy escorting a lady was received in proper style, at the door. They observed correct table manners, sang Christmas songs between courses and bade the hostess a fitting farewell on leaving. Joe Rausch said grace on this occasion. Miss Hope had provided a lovely dinner of creamed potatoes, sandwiches, fruit salad, bananas and ice cream, pink frosted cookie dolls, brown frosted ducks and marguerites. The children and their hostesses enjoyed the party immensely and have decided to make it an annual affair. Miss Hope has always been very popular with her little charges and they loaded her down with gifts. The children also remembered those less fortunate than themselves and made a box of clotheapheen dolls for an orphanage and packed two boxes of toys for the Salvation Army.

STATE CAPITOL ITEMS

Treasury Garrett D. Kinney credited to the general revenue a total of $827,955.76 in interest on state money during the ten months of his tenure of office according to the monthly report he has just issued. This amount the department announced, 144,000 more than was paid in by other treasurer in the same period of time.

The report shows that Illinois has a balance on hand of $38,394,362.92 to the balance on July 1 was $51,000, the state having expended approximately $13,000,000 in four months, mostly for improvements. The total bonded indebtedness of state is $145,296,500, of which $27,000 is in highway bonds and $79,000 in soldiers' compensation bonds.

ARM relief by federal legislation urged by heads of agricultural departments of various states who at their annual meeting in Chicago specific program could win individual support and as a compromise measure the meeting went on record strongly favoring relief legislation. Some sort S. J. Stanard, director of agriculture for Illinois, reported, "It has been the case in other cultural measures," the Illinois said "the industrial east is lacking in sympathy for the cultural central states and the West. Some of the state leaders of culture service seemed disinclined to urge any sort of action for relief."

The tomb of Abraham Lincoln is in a desolate state of repair. To the contrary, it is in good repair and "kept" was the reply given by Dr. J. Emil Smith of Springfield to a query from Helen Reese, of Highland Park, Michigan, assistant adjutant general of the National Daughters of the Grand Army of the Republic, regarding the condition of the tomb of the immortal emancipator.

Inquiries have been coming to Illinois officials and officers of the Capital City from many parts of the country as to the condition of the tomb; these reports grew out of a statement which appeared in an article published recently, that the tomb is badly in need of repair. The fact that the writer of the article published a retraction, and has spread among patriotic organizations that Lincoln's tomb is being neglected.

Mayor Smith's letter continues in part:

"Illinois is proud of the fact that gave Lincoln to the country and state makes ample provision for care of the tomb and the home which he lived in Springfield.

The city deplores the fact that a story appeared some months ago in a newspaper to the effect that the tomb was not in good condition. There is basis whatever for the story and the newspaper item was retracted by the newspaper that published it."

There has been no increase in contagious diseases in Illinois during the past few weeks a report recently issued by Dr. Isaac D. Rawlings, state director of health, shows. Chicken pox top the list with a total of four hundred and twenty-nine cases; tuberculosis follows closely with three hundred and forty-one; there are two hundred seventy-seven cases of scarlet fever, two hundred and thirty-nine of pneumonia, one hundred and eighty of whooping cough and one hundred and fifty-four of mumps.

The state division of highways recently let the contract for grading on Route 142, section 103, Fayette and Clay counties, to Higgins-Dyer and Company, Granite City. The price was $19,739.48.

Illinois is now on the verge of a golden era of progress as far as the eligible to participate in the federal appropriation. Illinois has proceeded in good faith along this line. It would seem that it is now time for the federal department to show good faith in their relations with the states, rather than to withdraw when the fight becomes more serious and the impending danger of greater economic importance," Stanard concluded.

Governor Small has received the resignation of John Righelmer, chairman of the Illinois Athletic commission, and his successor probably will be named in short time. Paul Prehn, Champaign, the only remaining member of the boxing commission originally named by Governor Small, will be acting chairman. S. Snuzzo, Chicago, is the other member. Righelmer became chairman of the commission following the resignation of O. W. Huncke, who found the work too strenuous. The commission was created by an act of the general assembly four years ago which became a law without the signature of Gov. Small.

With hydrophobia apparently spreading in the state and the alarm caused by fear of the disease creating even more damage than the infection itself, Dr. Isaac D. Rawlings, state health director, has issued a statement advising people not to kill dogs that are supposed to be mad unless it is absolutely necessary. Killing the animal destroys the most important source of definite information about the certainty of rabies and shrouds the whole situation with doubt which not infrequently results in unnecessary uneasiness and expense.

Capture the suspected animal and let him securely for observation," Dr. Rawlings said. "If the animal is rabid, he will die within ten days. If he has bitten any person, plenty of time to begin the Pasteur treatment remains after the ten day observation period. The onset of hydrophobia begins in from one to six months after a susceptible person or animal has been bitten by the rabid animal."

J. E. Robertson of Spring Garden township, Jefferson county, has filed a petition with the Illinois Commerce Commission for authority to operate a highway over the tracks of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad, south of Ida.

Extensive plans are under way for the annual convention of the Illinois State Dairymen's association, at Marion, January 17-19, according to Stillman J. Stanard, vice president of the organization. As director of agriculture, Stanard has provided cooperation on the part of the dairy husbandry division of his department in connection with the dairy cattle exposition held in connection with the assembly.

High school agricultural classes plan to compete in judging dairy cattle that will be on exhibition at Marion during the convention. Local organizations are co-operating fully, the vice president reports.

Hard road boosters for the proposed route from Jacksonville to Havana, and from Meredosia to Auburn, assembled at Jacksonville recently for a public hearing on the two roads. Delegations have visited the Capital city urging action and the hearing was arranged to hear discussion on the routes.

Governor Small attended the meeting and delivered an address. Col. C. H. Miller, director of public works and buildings, and Frank T. Sheets, chief highway engineer, were in charge of the hearing. The meeting was held in the high school auditorium.

The population of the Capital city is now 76,693, according to the city directory which was issued recently. The population one year ago was 75,802. The present figures include about 6,000 people just outside the corporate city limits.

Whether the present state tax rate of sixty-five cents on the hundred dollar valuation will be reduced, was expected to be considered at a meeting of the officials last week. The board is composed of the governor, state auditor and state treasurer.

While the rate may not be announced for some time figures are being compiled and will be gone over as soon as an estimate of the total valuation on property to be extended by the state tax commission is secured.
Officials report that there is a total of $21,000,000 in the revenue fund of the state and that approximately $10,000,000 lapsed the last of September, which shows that a vast amount of money appropriated by the legislature two years ago was not spent.

The state tax commission continues its work in Chicago and has given no indication when a final return will be made. Tax officials of the various counties are urging speed, in order that they may begin the task of extending local taxes.

Advantage of Ignorance

The ignorant have one great advantage over those who know; they can be certain. Certainty decreases at the same rates as knowledge grows. Our ancestors, who knew little about the past, could feel certain that the little they did know was all that was worth knowing. Today we know, comparatively, a great deal about the past.
We are, in consequence, much more tolerant, much less cocksure than our fathers.—Aldous Huxley in Vanity Fair Magazine.

STATE CAPITOL
NEWS IN BRIEF

A petition asking Governor Len Small to present an adequate reapportionment program to the proposed special legislative session was framed recently by the Illinois apportionment committee.

The petition which asked the governor to pledge himself to the cause of re-apportionment by which Chicago would gain more representatives and senators in the legislature has also been presented.

In order to supplement the routine crop reporting services of the state department of agriculture and the federal bureau of agricultural economics and crop and live stock estimates, rural mail carriers of Illinois have rendered a service in distributing and collecting 25,000 live stock survey cards.

A bulletin, "Aim of Crop Reports" is also being distributed to 30,000 Illinoian farmers, urging them to co-operate in this work of providing market information for the producers in order that they may enjoy more fully the advantages speculators have in accurate estimates received from private sources.

Various other questionnaires and reports relative to the cattle and sheep on feed in the state, stocks in mills and elevators, farm land values, and lesser crops, were also sent out.

Illinois has more banks than any state in the union, 502 being organized as national banks, and 1,399 as state banks.

Although noted as a prairie state there are one hundred species of forest trees native to Illinois, ninety-four being hard wood and six soft woods.

Old Salem in Menard county, the early home of Abraham Lincoln, is now a state park and one of the beauty spots of central Illinois.

It's no joke to walk clear from South Carolina to Illinois on foot but Harvey M. Burns, who died just a few days ago at the age of eighty-two years at his home in Waverly, did just that when he was but twenty-two years of age.

Illinois had been pictured to Mr.
Burns as a country where agricultural opportunities were ample and where farmers could realize their dreams. Mr. Burns arrived near Waverly practically penniless, but with the infinite courage of the hardy Georgia stock, he wrested a comfortable living and wealth from the soil.

Illinois has a million fowls accredited as standard bred—as many as all of the other states combined.

Poultry fanciers assembled for the central Illinois poultry show at Pana recently and received this information from Stillman J. Stanard, director of agriculture, the chief speaker of the evening.

With this great increase in the demand from poultry farmers for this state inspection service, Standard forecast that within a very few years Illinois will gain recognition as the leading poultry state in the union.

"A Standard-bred Flock on Every Farm in Illinois," the slogan of the Illinois State Poultry association, he stated, is becoming a reality.

A. D. Smith, chief poultryman of the division of poultry husbandry, Illinois department of agriculture, called upon for information relative to this service, explained that in a recent national convention of officials who perform like service, thirty-eight states were represented. They all reported progress, but the other states combined had no more accredited birds recorded than there are in Illinois this season.

DEATH TAKES W. D. DUNNING

Well Known Dairyman of Bristol Died Last Wednesday.

W. D. Dunning, 78, well known dairyman and former railroad man, died at his home near Pikeville, yesterday morning, following a paralytic stroke and complication of disease common to old age.

For the past eighteen years Mr.
Dunning had resided on his farm in Bristol township, which he purchased upon his retirement after a long and meritorious service with the Illinois Central railroad. During the world's fair at Chicago in 1892 Mr.
Dunning had charge of the public service department of the Illinois Central lines.

Upon his retirement he immediately interested himself in the problems of the dairy farmer and became an authority and an influential figure in local dairy circles.

He is survived by his wife and one son, Will Dunning, of Chicago.

Funeral services have been announced for 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon from the home.
